We, the graduating class of 1974, being of sound mind and body, do hereby make, publish, and declare the following as our Last Will and Testament, and appoint our advisor, Miss Marrison, as Executrix, without bond.

First, we direct our Executrix to give the same attention and gentle care to future graduating classes.

Second, we give, devise and bequeath unto future graduating classes all the privileges, positions, and responsibilities of seniors.

Third, we devise and bequeath the following:

Mr. Vasselli — A one page principal's report.

Mr. Gadson — A set of dumbbells.

Mr. Shmurak — A gold spoon commemorating 97 years in the cafeteria.

Miss Cordasco — A maroon and white Wonder Woman cape.

Miss Alamo — A trip to the Louvre.

Mrs. Allen — A set of automatic square dancers.

Miss Alston — A Singer Touch and Sew machine.

Miss Belmear — Unlimited sick days.

Miss Bornstein — A job as a Playboy Bunny.

Mr. Brown — A date with Aunt Esther.

Mrs. Brownlee — A subscription to MAD Magazine.

Mrs. Caliolio — Our congratulations.

Mr. Casciano — A piece of artificial turf.

Mr. Ceres — An armored car.

Miss Coleman — Typewriters that work.

Mr. Conroy — Purple castanets.

Mr. Cordasco — A faster film processing service.

Mr. DeSalvo — A portable full-length mirror and matching comb.

Miss Dougé — Pupils who can pronounce her name.

Mr. Feller — A Farmer Gray hat.

Mr. Flimlin — Alberto Balsam for hard to manage hair.

Miss Forgione — A reading of the Equal Rights Amendment by a male chauvinist.

Mr. E. Garcia — The Weight Watchers calorie counter.

Mr. Gerraty — Five classes in the cafeteria.

Mr. Giffoniello — The UCLA basketball team.

Mr. Hamway — A Playboy Bunny (see Miss Bornstein).

Miss Hill — A bottle of Geritol.

Mr. Hockman — A copy of The Sensuous Man.

Mr. J. Jones — A wrestling match with Haystacks Calhoun.

Mr. Kwasnik — A speedy recovery.

Mr. Kunda — One dozen pairs of panty hose.

Mr. Lee — A permanent job.

Mr. Lioi — A job in Santa's workshop.

Miss Marrison — The Key to Walt Frazier's heart.

Mr. Maughan — A brand new brown box.

Mrs. McConnell — Helen Reddy's recording of "I Am Woman."

*Sing out loud and clear
for Alma Mater
A song sweet and true that will ring through the years.*

*When fondly recall the moments of gladness
And friendships so dear
we will treasure anew.*

*Though farewell one day we must say with loyalty we keep in sight
These our colors maroon and white the emblem of our honor bright.*

*So Broadway with pride
We echo your praises
The school we all love
will remain in our hearts.*
